DATV E-News Update

DATV Welcomes New Board Members

Dayton, Ohio - 9/19/07 - - DATV's Board of Trustees have appointed two Dayton residents to serve on its Board. Chad Snoke and Faith Dickerhoof, will fill terms ending in 2010 and 2009 respectively.

Snoke is a Geomatics Enigneer with Woolpert Inc., where he is responsible for performing conventional and global positioning system surveys. He is also the Fund Raising Chairman and Executive Board Member of the Walnut Hills Community Association. Snoke has a Bachelor of Science degree from The Ohio State University.

"Technology and government regulation of the telecommunications industry is changing at a rapid pace," said Chad Snoke. "My knowledge of DATV, as a member, will help me guide it toward a future that builds on its current strengths and takes advantage of new opportunities as they arise."

Dickerhoof is the Community Affairs Manager for the Montgomery County Auditor's Office. She holds a M.P.A. of Public Policy from Ohio University.

"My experience in government has taught me what a vital role local access channels play in helping our citizens communicate with their local leaders," said Faith Dickerhoof. "I look forward to helping DATV to continue to build on its local successes."

DATV's Board of Trustees meets bi-monthly on the second Monday of the month at 11:30am at DATV's Public Access Center located at 280 Leo St. in Dayton.

DATV has over 500 members who last year produced over 4,000 local programs that aired on DATV and Dayton Spiritual Television. In 2008 DATV will celebrate its 30th year of cable casting in the Dayton community. For more information about membership at DATV visit www.datv.org.
